

Pond Care Tips

In our efforts to increase the overall enjoyment within the industry, we have created this section of informational handouts and tips to aid you in the care and upkeep of your water feature. We based the information contained in these handouts on our own personal experiences, product trials, education and current maintenance practices, with the ultimate goal in mind of providing you with the most up-to-date information available.

While we tried to design our handouts to address the multitude of products, filters and hardware available and implemented in today's water feature construction, we realize that your particular systems maintenance requirements may not be addressed, or some confusion to care may arise. In either case, please do not hesitate to contact us with any of your maintenance questions and pond care needs.
